Adult Learning and Literacy (ALL), a branch of the Department of Advanced Education and Literacy, administers and supports the development and delivery of adult-focused programming through adult learning centres and community-based literacy programs in Manitoba. This programming is designed to enable Manitobans to improve their ability to understand and employ printed information in daily living activities at work, at home, and in the community and to obtain high school credentials so they can access higher education and/or better employment opportunities.

ALL registers adult learning centres (ALCs) under the ALC Act and provides funding for both ALCs and literacy programs. In addition, ALL offers training and professional development workshops for new and experienced literacy practitioners and adult learning centre teachers.

ALL also administers the General Educational Development (GED) Testing Service, an international high school equivalency testing program for adults.

ADULT LEARNING CENTRES

An adult learning centre is a community partnership, which provides opportunities for adult learners who are 19 years of age and older to enhance their academic qualifications, develop employment skills and engage in life long learning. The centres offer a variety of Grade 9 to Grade 12 high school credit courses. They enable learners to complete the Mature Student High School Diploma Program, obtain courses necessary as prerequisites for attending post-secondary institutions or become more competitive for new employment opportunities.

In addition to the Grade 9 to Grade 12 credit courses, adult learning centres may provide the following courses or services:

- PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT AND RECOGNITION (PLAR)
  PLAR is a process used to identify, document, assess and recognize skills and knowledge. Besides formal education, learning for adults may take place in many other situations, including: work experience and workplace training, hobbies, family, the military, volunteer activities, travel, and independent study. Through PLAR, individuals may receive credit for courses by providing evidence to substantiate that learning has occurred.

- DUAL CREDIT COURSES
  Dual credit courses qualify for credit at both the high school and post-secondary levels.

- NON-CREDIT (NC) ACADEMIC COURSES
  NC academic courses include learning such as literacy or adult basic education. Generally these do not count towards a Mature Student High School Diploma.

- NON-CREDIT (NC) VOCATIONAL COURSES
  NC vocational courses include customized or "fee for service" courses linked to business, industry or for general interest purposes such as resume writing, interviewing or career exploration.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT (GED) SERVICES

The General Educational Development (GED) is an international high school equivalency testing program for adults. It consists of a series of five tests in the following areas:

- Language Arts, Reading
- Language Arts, Writing
- Mathematics
- Social Studies
- Science

The GED tests are designed to measure the skills that correspond to those of recent high school graduates. They involve the ability to understand and apply information; to evaluate, analyze, and draw conclusions; and to express ideas and opinions in writing. Adults who pass the five tests receive a Senior Years Equivalency diploma.

In some jurisdictions, GED test scores are accepted as being equivalent to secondary school graduation requirements for the purposes of employment, promotion, and licensing, as well as admission into apprenticeship programs. Some post-secondary institutions (such as community colleges and universities) may accept GED test scores for admissions purposes.

Adult Learning and Literacy cannot guarantee that a GED certificate will be accepted by employers or post-secondary institutions in every instance. If the GED certificate is to be used for community college, university entrance or for a job application, that institution or workplace should be contacted to find out if the GED is acceptable or meets their minimum requirements.

Test schedules, forms for registering to write the GED or requesting a duplicate copy of a GED transcript can be downloaded from our ALL website. Persons wanting additional information regarding the Manitoba GED Testing Service may contact the GED Administrator.

For complete information about GED Testing Services, visit the ALL website at: http://www.www.gov.mb.ca/all.

READ TO ME is open to any preschool child and their parent or other caregiver. This theme-based program promotes the fact that "A parent is a child's first and most important teacher." Each half-day session includes a Circle Time, an Adult Group Time, a snack, and a craft. A large take-home library and incentives provide encouragement to families to establish reading as a valued activity within the home.

There are two 8-week programs, offered Tuesday and Thursday mornings, at McIsaac School-Ecole McIsaac in Flin Flon. There is no cost for participants, and transportation can be provided.

Program Description:

The International Centre of Winnipeg offers a comprehensive range of services for immigrants, including Adult Education, Career Mentorship, Employment, Language Bank (Interpretation, Translation and Notary services), Nutrition, Settlement, Volunteer Services and a Youth program.

Adult Education Services supports adult immigrant learners through all stages of their educational process. A detailed assessment is first conducted with each client to identify needs for additional language testing or training, adult literacy or secondary classes, computer, trades or vocational training and preparation for college or university entrance. Clients who have professional credentials from their country of origin are often assisted with certification issues. The unique needs and goals of each client are addressed by an individualized learning plan that is developed in conjunction with the Adult Education Officer. The process also can involve:

- Referring clients to an appropriate adult secondary, literacy or EAL program
- Advising clients about how to develop computer and academic skills
- Career testing, exploration and counselling
- Assisting with college and university admissions and registrations
- Advocating with educational or professional organizations
- Identifying sources of funding for education and completing the necessary application materials

The International Centre also delivers the TapIn program, which helps immigrant learners access surplus seats at a reduced cost in a variety of continuing education programs in Winnipeg.

Program Description:
The Specialty Literacy Project is geared towards teaching adults with a developmental disability the skills they require to become independent in their daily living, to have a sense of self-worth, to build their self-esteem and to give them confidence in the learning process.

There is considerable potential for literacy to become a means for achieving the goals of community integration and increasing independence for adults with a developmental disability. One of the few reviews on literacy issues and adults with mental disability suggests that literacy is not only a means to increased "competence" in the community; it is also a means of access to experiences of daily life.

All courses are timetabled in our regular school schedule and setting. Adult education students have their own classroom including computers (two with Internet access). All courses are delivered in module form so students set the pace in which they pursue the course. A homework website for all adult education courses is planned to be set up by the end of December.

All courses are taught by qualified teachers who have been specifically trained to teach their subject area (a trained math teacher will teach our math courses). Many of the courses offered in our regular school timetable are also offered in our adult education program (computer, chemistry, biology, pre-calculus, accounting and English Literature).

Consumer Math 40S will be taught in a traditional classroom setting for the first time this year on Monday and Thursday afternoon.

Program Description:
The Portage Learning and Literacy Centre provides adult-focused programs from basic literacy and numeracy all the way to Grade 12. It also provides Family Literacy, employment programs and English as an Additional Language services.

The Centre runs all year. Applicants contact the Centre in person, or by phone, fax or e-mail. We then arrange an appointment at the Centre to explore educational history, academic levels and to discuss goals. A program of study, schedules and a start date are then arranged. A timetable is available at www.learningcentre.net. Programs can be full-time or part-time depending on a learner's other commitments and sponsorship arrangements. All learners are required to make regular progress. Programs can be delivered in small group settings, or individually. The Centre's Family Literacy and English as a Foreign Language programs take place off-site. The Centre is able to assist learners with transportation and other supports on a case-by-case basis. A certified onsite daycare is available. All Centre services are free.

Adult Literacy: PLLC offers community-based adult literacy programming. The program focuses on upgrading/developing skills in reading, writing and numeracy. The program offers support for GED readiness and EAL instruction.

Family Literacy: A family literacy program offered on Tuesdays and Wednesdays for the months of Sept and October and April and May. The morning and afternoon sessions are two hours in length and include a variety of poems, fingerplays, songs, stories, games and crafts centred around the theme of the day. The program is open for 3-5 year olds and their caregivers. The program is set up to help the parent prepare the child for Kindergarten, and at the same time model ways to show that learning is fun and a lifelong process.

Program Description:
The Centre is an alternative classroom that supports adult learners as well as underage learners needing alternatives to the traditional high school setting. The Centre is considered a satellite classroom to W.C. Miller Collegiate, and is the Altona site for Campus Manitoba.

Courses include Grade 9-12 core academic courses, computers, keyboarding, accounting, and family studies. See our website for course descriptions and details. Courses are individualized to meet the needs of learners. The centre also has continuous intake. A computer management system, Odyssey, is used to manage each learner's courses.

Learning is self-directed. With the support of teachers and educational assistants, learners establish goals for their progress in courses. Choice is provided through activities, projects, and assessments. Practical and real life projects are woven through courses when and where applicable.

Base line computer training is available and is also an expectation for students at the Centre. The Centre has established partnerships with local business to support learners, promote the Centre and offer upgrading to meet the demands of work.

Program Description:
A flexible, self-paced program available four afternoons and two evenings per week. Includes computer, group settings, referrals, one to one tutoring, GED preparation and Pre-Mature High School Diploma preparation.

Family Literacy Description:
We are a community-based Family Literacy Program incorporating aspects of the Parent Child Mother Goose model. We have extended the Program to include a focus on books. Parents of pre-school children are involved in learning to read children's literature with a focus on interactive strategies to share the books with their children. Our aims and objectives are to enhance the reading, writing and communication growth of our participants by building on the oral language awareness and competency developed via the Mother Goose model. We offer weekly sessions during which parents focus on books, rhymes, songs, and stories with their children and then separate to focus on books and bookmaking while their children simultaneously do activities based on a weekly theme. Rhyme and Reading Circle time is included (Wednesday a.m. - 10:00 a.m. - noon).
